

Toronto-based multi-platinum artist and producer elijah woods is thrilled to share his new EP, Hey There Elijah

, out on all streaming platforms today. The six-track EP features the previously released singles “2 thousand 10” and “Sunlight!,” alongside four brand new tracks that showcase elijah's dynamic artistry.

With this project, elijah offers an intimate window into the pivotal experiences that have shaped him over the past few years. "It's a blend of the emotions tied to turning 30, introspective lyrics about love, and personal stories, capturing everything I've been through in the last few years. Ultimately, this EP is my quest for maturity," he reveals. Seamlessly blending nostalgic pop soundscapes with edgy indie-rock undertones, the EP is a captivating exploration of life's complexities, wrapped in a sound that's both comfortingly familiar and refreshingly new.

Renowned for his irresistibly catchy melodies, vivid storytelling, and signature crisp production, elijah woods has established himself as one of pop music's most compelling solo acts, as well as a highly sought-after collaborator. Amassing over 1 billion streams across his discography, his meteoric rise as an independent artist has been nothing short of extraordinary. With multiple platinum and gold records, four JUNO Award nominations, and a SOCAN 2022 Pop Award under his belt, elijah is an artist on the brink of global stardom.

In 2023, he reached new heights by selling out his first Canadian headline tour, captivating audiences nationwide. This success propelled him onto the international stage earlier this year, where he dazzled fans in major Asian markets like Hong Kong, Tokyo, and Singapore. While in Asia, he also opened for Niall Horan in Jakarta and took the stage at the Seoul Jazz Festival alongside artists like Lauv, Jeremy Zucker, and JP Saxe. Most recently, elijah made his UK debut at BST Hyde Park Festival in London, further solidifying his place as a global phenomenon in the making.
