

WATCH "HOTEL FLAMINGO" VIDEO

KELSY KARTER & THE HEROINES RETURN WITH ELECTRIFYING "HOTEL FLAMINGO" VIDEO — WATCH

Hailing from the vibrant confluence of British grit and Australian charm, Kelsy Karter & The Heroines have stormed the global music scene with an electrifying blend of rebellious rock n roll and unbridled creativity.

Formed five years ago, this dynamic four-piece is spearheaded by the unapologetic Kelsy Karter, whose fiery persona and theatrical roots set the stage for the band's thrilling ride in rock music today.

They have just dropped the electrifying video for the quietly crackling single "Hotel Flamingo." It's a Gen Z power ballad that will take up space in your cranium for weeks at a time.

Watch it here.

As for the accompanying visual? It's cinematic and Tarantino-esque, and features fabulous fashions, emotions running on high, and a dance party for two.

"Everybody talks about the love of a partner, a friend, or even oneself, but nobody ever talks about the power of love from a stranger," says Karter. "Written by myself and co-directed with Whitney Otte, we wanted the 'Hotel Flamingo' music video to embody both tragedy and comedy, like all great love stories. We introduced my drag king character as 'The Drifter' and our good friend Izzy (singer of Black Honey) played the 'Lady of the Night.' We shot this on a sunny day in Los Angeles with a small crew of our mates, greatly inspired by my biggest cinema inspiration Quentin Tarantino. And of course it wouldn't be a Heroines music video without a little milk and blood."

We won't say too much more, since the video speaks volumes.

But there is much more coming from Kelsy Karter & The Heroines in due course, so stay tuned.

ABOUT KELSY KARTER & THE HEROINES:

Kelsy Karter, an Australian theatre kid turned rock frontwoman, leads the charge with a blend of potty-mouthed charm and heartfelt sincerity. Known for her audacious approach to self-promotion, Kelsy has become a media sensation for her innovative, often outrageous marketing stunts. TIME magazine once drew comparisons between her and rock legends like Ozzy Osbourne and Alice Cooper. Kelsy's fearless attitude towards online hate and her advocacy for self-expression and anti-bullying have made her a powerful voice both on and off the stage.

The band's core is completed by the inseparable English trio of lead guitarist Matt Peach, drummer Sebastian Boyse, and bassist Tommy Gent. Hailing from Derby, England, these three have been friends since childhood and share an undeniable chemistry that fuels their explosive performances. Their combined talents create a rich, guitar-drenched sound steeped in glam rock and '80s punk, offering a musical experience that is both timeless and contemporary.

Their debut album, Missing Person, was a critical triumph, marking the band as a unique force in modern rock, which led to the album being spotlighted by Rolling Stone as "The Album Rolling Stone Recommends" in the month following the album's release.

With over 800k followers across social media platforms, Kelsy Karter & The Heroines have built a digital circus of live performances, comedy skits, and touring anecdotes. Their social media presence is as electric as their music, showcasing the band's cheek and charm and Kelsy's candid advice on everything from self-help to embracing one's true self.

The Heroines' spirit were recognized in January 2024 when they won the Spirit Award at the 12th Annual She Rocks Awards, celebrating Kelsy's influence as a woman in rock music and the band's impact on the rock n roll scene. Their endorsement deals with Monster Energy, Shure, Fender, and Taylor Guitars further attest to their growing prominence.

