Fronted by Craig Johns Jr. and featuring Alan Ashby (Of Mice & Men) on guitar, The Dark's lineup is rounded out by bassist Nick Goins and drummer Derek Vautrinot. The EP promises to be a harrowing exploration of the darker facets of human nature, drawing inspiration from industrial and '90s rock icons like Nine Inch Nails and Deftones, blended with a modern edge.

The band has already made waves with their debut single, "Chemicals," which racked up over 200,000 streams on Spotify within a month and earned international radio play. Their subsequent single, "Slip Away," climbed active rock radio charts and further cemented their reputation as a rising force in the rock scene.

NEW ALBUM WILL YOU STILL LOVE ME? OUT JANUARY 31

London-based metalcore band TheCityIsOurs have released their inspiring new single, "Can You Feel It?", offering a taste of their upcoming album, Will You Still Love Me?, due out on January 31 via Arising Empire.

The track delivers a powerful message of hope and resilience.

"Can You Feel It?" explores the courage it takes to face insecurities, embrace vulnerability, and strive for happiness. Speaking about the song, the band shares, "We wanted this track to be full of positivity, to not only encourage people to be brave and take risks for a chance at happiness, but also show that it is not impossible! Other people just like them are going through similar things and coming out the other side, stronger than ever!"

With its emotionally charged lyrics and uplifting energy, "Can You Feel It?" promises to resonate deeply with listeners navigating their own struggles. Keep an eye out for Will You Still Love Me?, a record destined to inspire.
