Recorded and mixed by Ian Flanigan and Aaron Chmielewski, respectively, the single is a masterful addition to Flanigan’s growing discography. It serves as the next single from his forthcoming album The Man My Mama Raised, set to release on March 17 through Reviver Records.

Accompanying the emotional depth of “Evergreen” are lyrics that tell a story of enduring love:

*There’s a million ways that I could
Tell you just how I feel
Show up at your doorstep holding*

*Every flower in the field
I could tell you every way I'd love you till I die
But right now I got one thing on my mind...*
