

BREAK THROUGH ELECTRONIC

Visionary electronic artist tesh is poised to make a striking entrance into the new year with the release of “FINGERTIPS,” the lead single out today from his forthcoming debut EP, CYCLES + REPETITIONS, via San Holo’s bitbird imprint.

“FINGERTIPS” merges house and indie rock influences at 138 BPM to deliver an evocative exploration of memory, longing, and physical connection. Driven by a pulsing rhythm and bittersweet lyrics—“feel you on my fingertips, love it when the feeling hits”—the track captures the fleeting essence of intimacy, offering a sensual yet introspective respite.

“FINGERTIPS is a snapshot of bittersweet nostalgia. The song unfolds as part of a larger theatrical narrative, weaving through my personal journey of love, loss, and emotional duality. It explores those tender moments of intimacy that live in our memory – moments that carry both the warmth of happiness and the ache of knowing they’ve passed. FINGERTIPS reflects on the fleeting nature of beautiful things, and how their temporary existence makes them all the more precious.” – tesh
